

To Ulric 4'Basden

General of the Black Thorns

General,

We have captured what appears to be a large gate by the destroyed Steading of Hidden Walk in Western Scout. The Jotun here were well armed elites and were defending heavily.

They were more than a match for us in a full on attack, well drilled and had physicians in their ranks that were healing each other.

We did as you told us, hit hard then pulled back, although we burnt a lot of our herbs, we managed to take them out eventually. We lost several Thorns in the process, we could not pick up our wounded whilst pulling back and there are many who will not be fighting with us.

Our archers were effective, they had shields and armour, but since they were not pulling forwards then it took out several. We found that watching for their physicians and aiming for them was an advantage.

There was a Miasma that we did not go in too. There looked like there may be a creatures in there and we were not equipped to deal with it's venom. However, if we had cleared this out then, we could have used it to pull back to. The Jotun did not seem to want to go anywhere near it.

I hope this information is useful.

Let me know if you want me to hold this area or move on.

Thanks

Strength to the Empire: Strength to Navarr

Cael Moonstrider