

CURSE
Curse ID: 29129

Your character is CURSED.

You feel caught at a crossroads with no idea which way to turn. It is difficult to pinpoint what exactly is causing this thought. You have a drive to seek out those you see as teachers and to connect with them. When you find someone you consider to be a true teacher, give them the Teacher of the Chalice effect card.

Teacher of the Chalice

You feel something like a thread stretching between you and the person who gave you this card. For the rest of the summer solstice, when you teach them something, you feel a gentle warmth, as though bathed in starlight.

Teacher of the Chalice

You feel something like a thread stretching between you and the person who gave you this card. For the rest of the summer solstice, when you teach them something, you feel a gentle warmth, as though bathed in starlight.
