

To the Grandmasters of the Celestial Arch and the Shattered Lantern,

We send this report from our now joint investigation into the Agramant Cult known as the Blood Pack. The Blood Pack have now gathered their full strength, and have now moved through Karov into Volodmartz seemingly unfazed by the dangers of the Varushkan wilderness. At their head is a Herald, the one we believe to know as Crimson Rain, a figure either covered in or made from fresh blood.

We do not know at this time what they are planning but the Cult is clearly heading for the Mountains of Brez. We believe that there will be an opportunity to catch the Blood Pack in the act and wipe them out before whatever mad scheme they are planning is brought to fruition. We will send a report when we know when and where to strike, but the Cult's numbers are such that we will need that aid of the Mages of Conclave to end this Menace when the time comes.

Yours,

Abigail of Miriam' Fall of the Shattered Lantern
