

CURSE

Curse ID: 19853

It has, just very recently, become impossible to sleep in. When on a Trod, of course, the sensation is barely noticeable: it is only when away from one that it can really be felt. For that same feeling that drives a Trod walker long after they ought to have dropped from exhaustion, bubbles within your veins and pumps with your heart whether you are on one or not.

Role-playing Effect: Your character is CURSED.

While this curse is in effect, you are moved to respond to any attempt to make you calm down or relax by escalating steadily and implacably instead.

Mechanical Effect: In addition, while affected by this CURSE, if you are exposed to any role-play effect that causes you to feel tired, weary or weak, you can instead respond with a pitiless surge of implacable power.
