

Barchetta Notturno de Sarvas

Vinchenzo,

My dearest brother, I hope you are well. I heard that you are going by the name Barchetta now. My eldest will be disappointed, he was looking forward to meeting his uncle Little Vinchenzo has always wanted to meet his namesake.

Anyway, I'm sorry it has taken this long to get in touch, that having been said, the change of name has not made finding you easy. But I know that with all of my travelling I am not the easiest person to get in contact with. However, I hear that your business is doing well. I am glad that one of us is doing well. I get by, but I haven't heard from Fenzini since the battles in Holberg. I fear the worst, but we have to have hope. Please let me know if you have heard from him.

Biagio's family -you haven't met my husband properly, we'll have to sort that. Biagio's family came into some business that may be useful for you. They were doing some business with a Marcher in Casinea of all places and there was a rumour about a necklace of leaguish origin. It is said to contain the ring of Aldones di Sarvos, as well as the rings of Maria Ivanova, Boyar of Temeschwar and Barell of Tassato. I am sure that this is just a myth, but of these things you never can tell.

Such an item should definitely be in the hands of the people of Sarvos, don't you agree?

I realise that my husband's business is small compared to the works of your illustrious carta, but if you could put some work his way, then I am sure he would share more information about the whereabouts of this ring.

You will have to come round for dinner some time too

All my love

Gabrella Verdulero Di Sarvos
