

To Clytemnestra of the House of the Wanderer, Gatekeeper of Wisdom,

I write to you, and all the other gatekeepers of virtue, about the allocation of a dose of True Liao - albeit a strange one.

Twenty years ago my family made a unique deal with the Rainbow Serpent, Sung. In return for allowing her to study a dose of True Liao we had purchased at Anvil, she would return it to us subtly transformed. It has taken her a full two decades to satisfy her curiosity, but now we hold it in our hands again. And our Prosperity calls us to use it!

This unique dose of liao should allow a large group of people to catch a brief glimpse of one of their past lives, granting them the drive to explore it more deeply. We ask you to find two people who will make the most of this experience - or pass this task one to another. Those chosen should bring one of the enclosed invites to the Waypoint, in the Brass Coast camp at Anvil, at 8pm on Saturday night.

Our only condition is that these not go to someone who has had a true liao vision before, or expects to any time soon. We are confident that this infusion is entirely safe to consume, but it may have unpleasant side effects for someone who still has even a trace of True Liao in their system.

Yours in joyous virtue,

Fiel i Sagrado i Riqueza

To Serrusto Caeli Rezia di Tassato, Gatekeeper of Ambition,

I write to you, and all the other gatekeepers of virtue, about the allocation of a dose of True Liao - albeit a strange one.

Twenty years ago my family made a unique deal with the Rainbow Serpent, Sung. In return for allowing her to study a dose of True Liao we had purchased at Anvil, she would return it to us subtly transformed. It has taken her a full two decades to satisfy her curiosity, but now we hold it in our hands again. And our Prosperity calls us to use it!

This unique dose of liao should allow a large group of people to catch a brief glimpse of one of their past lives, granting them the drive to explore it more deeply. We ask you to find two people who will make the most of this experience - or pass this task one to another. Those chosen should bring one of the enclosed invites to the Waypoint, in the Brass Coast camp at Anvil, at 8pm on Saturday night.

Our only condition is that these not go to someone who has had a true liao vision before, or expects to any time soon. We are confident that this infusion is entirely safe to consume, but it may have unpleasant side effects for someone who still has even a trace of True Liao in their system.

*Yours in joyous virtue,
Fiel i Sagrado i Riqueza*

This letter accompanies the ribbon 43455 "Seed of Arden."
You will need to source your own phys-rep - a simple pine cone or small twig will do!

To Halwyn Splitroot, Champion of Funeral Rites,

The Moonsilver Court of the is abuzz with word of your performance at the Summer Solstice, and your triumph over the strange ways of the Sarcophan.

Your vision for the First Voice Glade & School is equally inspiring. The Forest of Arden can not offer you weirwood, but the Unicorn Prince wishes to sponsor you in another way. Enclosed with this letter is a seed from the heart of the Forest.

Once you have gathered the weirwood you need, and building is complete, you may invoke this seed at the Imperil Regio. We will send creatures of Arden to guard and protect your newly-built commission.

This offer extends only to this specific project - it cannot be called upon for any other projects or locations.

*Yours in victory,
Scrivener of the Forest of Arden*

To Masha Sigeling, Gatekeeper of Courage,

I write to you, and all the other gatekeepers of virtue, about the allocation of a dose of True Liao - albeit a strange one.

Twenty years ago my family made a unique deal with the Rainbow Serpent, Sung. In return for allowing her to study a dose of True Liao we had purchased at Anvil, she would return it to us subtly transformed. It has taken her a full two decades to satisfy her curiosity, but now we hold it in our hands again. And our Prosperity calls us to use it!

This unique dose of liao should allow a large group of people to catch a brief glimpse of one of their past lives, granting them the drive to explore it more deeply. We ask you to find two people who will make the most of this experience - or pass this task one to another. Those chosen should bring one of the enclosed invites to the Waypoint, in the Brass Coast camp at Anvil, at 8pm on Saturday night.

Our only condition is that these not go to someone who has had a true liao vision before, or expects to any time soon. We are confident that this infusion is entirely safe to consume, but it may have unpleasant side effects for someone who still has even a trace of True Liao in their system.

*Yours in joyous virtue,
Fiel i Sagrado i Riqueza*

To Irada Von Temeschwar, Gatekeeper of Wisdom,

I write to you, and all the other gatekeepers of virtue, about the allocation of a dose of True Liao - albeit a strange one.

Twenty years ago my family made a unique deal with the Rainbow Serpent, Sung. In return for allowing her to study a dose of True Liao we had purchased at Anvil, she would return it to us subtly transformed. It has taken her a full two decades to satisfy her curiosity, but now we hold it in our hands again. And our Prosperity calls us to use it!

This unique dose of liao should allow a large group of people to catch a brief glimpse of one of their past lives, granting them the drive to explore it more deeply. We ask you to find two people who will make the most of this experience - or pass this task one to another. Those chosen should bring one of the enclosed invites to the Waypoint, in the Brass Coast camp at Anvil, at 8pm on Saturday night.

Our only condition is that these not go to someone who has had a true liao vision before, or expects to any time soon. We are confident that this infusion is entirely safe to consume, but it may have unpleasant side effects for someone who still has even a trace of True Liao in their system.

*Yours in joyous virtue,
Fiel i Sagrado i Riqueza*

To Harwyn Eternal, Gatekeeper of Pride,

I write to you, and all the other gatekeepers of virtue, about the allocation of a dose of True Liao - albeit a strange one.

Twenty years ago my family made a unique deal with the Rainbow Serpent, Sung. In return for allowing her to study a dose of True Liao we had purchased at Anvil, she would return it to us subtly transformed. It has taken her a full two decades to satisfy her curiosity, but now we hold it in our hands again. And our Prosperity calls us to use it!

This unique dose of liao should allow a large group of people to catch a brief glimpse of one of their past lives, granting them the drive to explore it more deeply. We ask you to find two people who will make the most of this experience - or pass this task one to another. Those chosen should bring one of the enclosed invites to the Waypoint, in the Brass Coast camp at Anvil, at 8pm on Saturday night.

Our only condition is that these not go to someone who has had a true liao vision before, or expects to any time soon. We are confident that this infusion is entirely safe to consume, but it may have unpleasant side effects for someone who still has even a trace of True Liao in their system.

*Yours in joyous virtue,
Fiel i Sagrado i Riqueza*

This letter accompanies ribbons 43461, 43462 and 43463
The phys-reps for these items can be collected from the Monster tent between 4pm-5pm on Friday, or passed on by the Freeborn egregore on request.

*To Constanza i Kalamar i Guerra, and Marta i Guerra, Arbiters of the contest between Jaheris and Eleonaris,
and between the Empire and the rest of the world.*

I write to you for perhaps the last time.

The Moonsilver Court buzzes with word of the great contest at the Summer Solstice. Although Elonaris will eternally insist otherwise, Jaheris is confident that the victory went to him, and thus to the Empire, and thus to you.

*You handed over a wealth of resources to form the basis for your boon.
Considering the amount, and our Prince's satisfaction with your work, he has instead seen fit to reforge a set of items from your history. These three items were made close to the foundation of your nation, when Free Landing stood proudly on your coast. Before the pointless savagery of Spring laid it low.*

*May these items help give you the strength to set things right.
May you remain proud, glorious, and free.*

*Yours,
Scrivener of the Forest of Arden*

Frith,

I write to you as Kaela's Cold-Hearted Challenge draws to an end. The Queen of Silence is ready to hear the tales of how you have fought, and what you have lost, over the past seasons.

Your Archmage of Winter has seen fit to invite her to a formal audience this summit, for a similar purpose. We in turn invite you to attend along with any who have fought beneath your banner.

This audience will take place at 11pm on Friday of this Autumn Equinox, in the Hall of Worlds. We recognise that you, and the warriors you most value, may not have that magic needed to access this. So, a herald will seek you at the Imperial Regio to open a portal for you and up to two others.

You will have up to 5 minutes to give your account, and no more. Make it count.

Until then,

Legionnaire Sven, the Cold of Heart

To Eurybia of the House of Wanderers, Gatekeeper of Loyalty,

I write to you, and all the other gatekeepers of virtue, about the allocation of a dose of True Liao - albeit a strange one.

Twenty years ago my family made a unique deal with the Rainbow Serpent, Sung. In return for allowing her to study a dose of True Liao we had purchased at Anvil, she would return it to us subtly transformed. It has taken her a full two decades to satisfy her curiosity, but now we hold it in our hands again. And our Prosperity calls us to use it!

This unique dose of liao should allow a large group of people to catch a brief glimpse of one of their past lives, granting them the drive to explore it more deeply. We ask you to find two people who will make the most of this experience - or pass this task one to another. Those chosen should bring one of the enclosed invites to the Waypoint, in the Brass Coast camp at Anvil, at 8pm on Saturday night.

Our only condition is that these not go to someone who has had a true liao vision before, or expects to any time soon. We are confident that this infusion is entirely safe to consume, but it may have unpleasant side effects for someone who still has even a trace of True Liao in their system.

*Yours in joyous virtue,
Fiel i Sagrado i Riqueza*

Sindri, of Hraefnhall in Wintermark,

I write to you as Kæla's Cold-Hearted Challenge draws to an end. The Queen of Silence is ready to hear the tales of how you have fought, and what you have lost, over the past seasons.

Your Archmage of Winter has seen fit to invite her to a formal audience this summit, for a similar purpose. We in turn invite you to attend along with any who have fought beneath your banner.

This audience will take place at 11pm on Friday of this Autumn Equinox, in the Hall of Worlds. We recognise that you, and the warriors you most value, may not have that magic needed to access this. So, a herald will seek you at the Imperial Regio to open a portal for you and up to two others.

You will have up to 5 minutes to give your account, and no more. Make it count.

Until then,

Legionnaire Sven, the Cold of Heart

To Ivana Petara Vodjavic, Gatekeeper of Prosperity,

I write to you, and all the other gatekeepers of virtue, about the allocation of a dose of True Liao - albeit a strange one.

Twenty years ago my family made a unique deal with the Rainbow Serpent, Sung. In return for allowing her to study a dose of True Liao we had purchased at Anvil, she would return it to us subtly transformed. It has taken her a full two decades to satisfy her curiosity, but now we hold it in our hands again. And our Prosperity calls us to use it!

This unique dose of liao should allow a large group of people to catch a brief glimpse of one of their past lives, granting them the drive to explore it more deeply. We ask you to find two people who will make the most of this experience - or pass this task one to another. Those chosen should bring one of the enclosed invites to the Waypoint, in the Brass Coast camp at Anvil, at 8pm on Saturday night.

Our only condition is that these not go to someone who has had a true liao vision before, or expects to any time soon. We are confident that this infusion is entirely safe to consume, but it may have unpleasant side effects for someone who still has even a trace of True Liao in their system.

*Yours in joyous virtue,
Fiel i Sagrado i Riqueza*

Mithras Lore, of The Winter Wolfborn,

I write to you as Kaela's Cold-Hearted Challenge draws to an end. The Queen of Silence is ready to hear the tales of how you have fought, and what you have lost, over the past seasons.

Your Archmage of Winter has seen fit to invite her to a formal audience this summit, for a similar purpose. We in turn invite you to attend along with any who have fought beneath your banner.

This audience will take place at 11pm on Friday of this Autumn Equinox, in the Hall of Worlds. We recognise that you, and the warriors you most value, may not have that magic needed to access this. So, a herald will seek you at the Imperial Regio to open a portal for you and up to two others.

You will have up to 5 minutes to give your account, and no more. Make it count.

*Until then,
Legionnaire Sven, the Cold of Heart*

To accept the brewers' offer, send them another Winged Messenger and make sure the extra funds are in your inventory at the end of the event.

Hello Marcus,

Lovely to hear from you, and to know that our little brew is a hit with the folks in Anvil! We had been talking about maybe retiring after a year, but with how things are going we now think we'll be at this for at least a few more seasons. If we do decide to pack it in you'll be the first to know and with a good bit of warning too.

You're not the first to mention "a few bad doses." We're puzzled by it to be quite honest. Best theory is it's just a natural product of our brewing process. We're hardly a fancy League-ish vineyard over here, and no desire to change that either!

That said, there are a few improvements we could make if we could find the cash. If you sent us an extra 4 Thrones at some point, along with a letter so we know what it's for, we could probably cut the bad doses down by about half.

Probably never going to get rid of them completely though. Maybe the occasional bad one's just the cost of doing business? Can't hang a clothesline without breaking a few pegs. (Is that the phrase?) I'll leave that up to you and get back to brewing.

*Prosperity to you,
Sweet Anna*