

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Thomas

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

You are a witness for Novartis Aurelius.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Novartis Aurelius is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials.
This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations A Magister

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Clarice Novarion.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Clarice Novarion is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Jacques Flayer

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Earl Ruse Myriad.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Earl Ruse Myriad is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials.
This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Brother Aemon

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Sister Sarah.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Sister Sarah is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Baraos

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Raziel.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Raziel is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Silvio di Tassato

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Monzcarro von Holberg.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Monzcarro von Holberg is not present

If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Synne

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

You are a witness for Blayk Stone.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Blayk Stone is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Kerrewyn

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Morven Whitemane.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Morven Whitemane is not present

If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Selwyn

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Terah.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Terah is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Gawain Splitroot

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Drefa Brackensong.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Drefa Brackensong is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Lenarius Ankarien

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Aurum Nightingale.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Aurum Nightingale is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials.
This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Nikolai

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm
Your are a witness for Kazimir Kirovitch Aristous.

Our records are patchy. It is possible you are the wrong Nikolai – if so please blame us not Kazimir, but ask them to deliver this letter to the right Nikolai.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Kazimir Kirovitch Aristous is not present

If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials.
This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?
If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely.
Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Sigismund

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Lutobor Branislavovich Glinka.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Lutobor Branislavovich Glinka is not present

If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Matilda

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm
Your are a witness for Leofric Baerson.

Our records are patchy it is possible that you are the wrong Matilda, but please blame us not, Leofric – ask him to deliver this to the right Matilda instead

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Leofric Baerson is not present
If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?
If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Odd Twice Born

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Desmond Argonning.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Desmond Argonning is not present

If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.

The Trials of the Pallid Charm – Next Stage

Congratulations Tamar

You are a witness in the Trials of the Pallid Charm

Your are a witness for Isolde of Hearthfire.

There is no action you Need to take in Anvil this summit unless Isolde of Hearthfire is not present

If they are not present, you may attend a meeting in their place to keep them in the Trials.

---

Meeting – 8 o clock in the Imperial Senate on the first Evening of the Equinox

We will review the details of what participants must do in this stage of the trials. This will mean you can take on the task on their behalf if they are not here. If they are here you do not need to attend.

---

Your Curse

We hope you are learning from the Curse of the Bleak Tower?

Have you discovered the spiritual anointings that can provide you with temporary relief. The ritual known to Imperials as Wisdom of the Balanced Blade will reveal them to you. You are permitted to use them. This will not stop your participant progressing in the trials.

Will you seek that temporary relief, or will that just make things worse?

If the curse is too much for you – ask at the Meeting to have it removed completely. Remember though, this will mean your participant does not move forward in the trials.

OOO Note: Your curse no is 13799 use this if investigating the curse

RP effect wording: This curse plucks away at your sense of connection to one of the people you love most. Your sense of them dessicates, ossifies and though you know their name and that you know them, you can no longer tell why you should care.No matter how many times people explain it to you, you are unable to feel it. Tear off this strip so your message is IC only.