

Lady Kaywenn,

I want you to know that your simple expression of your truth is the entire reason Rossignol made this competition, it is the reason the Loquacious One treats letters of love as different to any other form of the written word. It is everything. If there is help that is within Rossignol's gift to give in your Test of Ardour, you have earned it.

And so it is of great disappointment that Ozren is not in Anvil, and we could not have the Speaker in Dreams send him messages in the night. We would have had him come to a night chamber to hear your words. Since he is not here, then you must choose others to hear. Would you choose those of his house, those who set the Test of Ardour, or those of your own, to hear your truth and perhaps understand you better?

You may choose to be present or not - in sight or in hiding, you may read your words or have a Herald read them for you, but you must honor Rossignol's intent and send some sort of listener.

I will be in Lumi's teahouse early on Friday of the Equinox, hoping that you will find me, or be found by another Herald, Meliflee

The chamber will be opened from the Hall of Worlds at six on the Saturday of the Equinox. It will be down to any guests to find their way into the Hall of Worlds. But what small challenge that will be to Dawnish who must take Tests of Mettle and Ardour.

Yours

Percival Weaver, Night Mage,

and one who sees the virtue in the actions of the Eternal Lashonar
