

Dear Luke,

I hope this letter finds you well. I bring tidings from the Lords of the Crossroads and would be gratified if you would be able to make some time to speak with me this summit - I will be in House du Lac in Dawn between 7 and 9 on Friday as usual for my visits to your Empire's little gatherings. The nature of the message is something that should be discussed in person, but it relates to the relationship between your Empire and my lord the Iron Duke. Rest assured that my lord does not think the Empire has acted in an untoward manner - nevertheless, circumstances change beyond our control. I look forward to speaking to you, as always.

Yours,

Revel, Herald of Barien
