

To Skywise Gralka, Archmage of Day

Firstly greetings to you and I trust that this letter finds you well.

I was intrigued and please by your request, my fellow Heralds and I have been discussing recently about sending a delegate to the Imperial Orcs to discuss military theory and strategy of the nation. Part of that discussion would have been about Imperial Orc games and the sorts of miliary strategies they teach, so your request was most serendipitous.

Unfortunately due to my own duties I sadly do not have time at the present to start such a project, however I have both a willing Herald who can aid you and allies within the Empire who I am sure would relish the opportunity to help you in the creation of game for the Imperial Orcs.

I am writing to my own allies about this matter and you should expect them and my Herald at 1pm on the Saturday of the Summer Solstice.

Yours,

Agon, Polomarch of Clarity, Gamesmaster of Zakalwe
