Sarvosian friends!

It was a pleasure discussing interesting artefacts with you during the Summer Solstice. We gave our contact details to many, and gathered many names of those who are interested in the unusual ways items of both The Way and of magics can influence our thoughts and actions.

The reason that we write to you now is that we purchased an item from a trader this season, which we thought might have a previously unknown virtue aura. It is a mask, and the story the trader tells is that it came from Sarvos. Insight reveals that the effects it generates are not virtue based, nor due to it being an anchor – hence it must be magical. This is of much lesser interest to us, but may be of greater interest to you, given its supposed origins?

Will you come along, or send someone you trust to meet with us at The Three Refrains tent at around 11.30 on the Saturday morning of the Equinox? We will look for you there. If you or your representatives are not present, we will endeavour to leave the mask in the custody of one of the Bards or one of the Anvil Librarians.

Yours

Reuben and Ira of Scholar's Rest, nr Anvil, Casinea
