

Oscuro Kira di Tassato,

The Sovereign Lord of The City of Chains has a small opportunity to offer you.

A Secretary will arrive at your Hall of Worlds at around half past nine on the First night of the Solstice.

You will escort them to a place you consider both private and hospitable to discuss this offer.

If you choose for others to be present you must vouch for them. Should you deem it entertaining for the unfortunate Lafayette to attend he will be welcomed without question.

The Prince of the Argent Tontine wishes you to encourage him to yet further risk and further gain. Also, he may choose to repay his debts earlier than he need.

This Secretary will also provide you with a token that will enable you to contact the Prince should there be any questions about the High Tontine or other news you wish to share. This fact has been published to the Casinean Empire. We hope it will not inconvenience you.

We hope you enjoy discussing this small opportunity which may lead to larger ones in future.

Lanister, Secretary
