

Prosperity First!

I am Ximen i Suerta i Guerra, the hero of Cerevado, and I write to you as a hero of the whole Empire! I own the greatest casino in Cerevado, indeed, in the Brass Coast! But something is missing: something grand, something beautiful. In short, something permanent.

See, I have all this weirwood and nothing to do with it! Why does the Senate keep private citizens from building great works all for themselves? I can only imagine the hoops they must have made you jump through to get all your great achievements built! What a legacy you have made!

And now it is time to reap the rewards! Yes, you could become the most valued customer of the finest casino outside of Temeschwar – and maybe including it! I will let you decide that when you come to visit, and you see the spirit of the Freeborn people at first hand!

Thrill in the music! Enjoy the dancers! Turn your hand to the game of hazard, learn the hundred different variants of backgammon, and bet on any number of games and sports performed for your entertainment, from archery to skittles, contests of skill and dance, displays of beautiful magic! I want you to come and see how a Freeborn master does entertainment, and then decide if you want to invest.

Get me a Senate Motion, or a Wayleave, and you will never pay for anything at the Senators' Palace, I guarantee it.

Looking forward to our meeting already!

Ximen i Suerta
