

In the weeks leading up to the Summit at Anvil a name starts to do the rounds in the vicinity of your business, becoming the subject of gossip and a little worry. The name is Livueta Garovich de Sarvos, the alleged last surviving member of the Sarvosian based branch of the Vyig that was eradicated a few seasons ago. Whether it be reports from dockworkers, or concerns brought to you by worried customers there appears to be the beginnings of a rumour that her distinctly scarred face has been seen lurking around specific parts of the city. No one seems to have actually got a firsthand report of running across her but well... with her reputation for an enthusiasm for knives and immediate action that isn't necessarily a surprise.
