

Bakar I Riqueza

I have been informed by Artem of Temeschwar that you hold a ticket to The Sovereign Lord of the City of Chains' Game – The Argent Gateau.

You are to be welcomed to an Autumn Chamber at 3 in the afternoon of the Saturday of this Equinox. One of my fellow heralds will greet you in the Hall of Worlds and take you through.

Bring your ticket, or stay close to Artem of Temeschwar and hope they will vouch for you if you have lost it.

Take care not to get muddled with a party heading to the Plenipotentiary – they will be going to a different chamber.

The game will last until all the cake is cut or you all decide to take no more risks – I imagine around half an hour or slightly longer. If you track time with care, you may be able to leave in time to join or influence the last groups bidding for Spirit Market tickets. Among the rich rewards in the game which includes at least 3 ilium, are some rewards related to the Spirit Market itself. They may be useful to you. There are of course also forfeits of significant weight.

Should you be unable to attend, you may pass your ticket to another, along with this letter and your signature together with a statement that this is your wish.

May the game be rich and the gateau taste good

Lanister
Secretary to Callidus

Damiàn i Martàn i Erigo

I have been informed by Artem of Temeschwar that you hold a ticket to The Sovereign Lord of the City of Chains' Game – The Argent Gateau.

You are to be welcomed to an Autumn Chamber at 3 in the afternoon of the Saturday of this Equinox. One of my fellow heralds will greet you in the Hall of Worlds and take you through.

Bring your ticket, or stay close to Artem of Temeschwar and hope they will vouch for you if you have lost it.

Take care not to get muddled with a party heading to the Plenipotentiary – they will be going to a different chamber.

The game will last until all the cake is cut or you all decide to take no more risks – I imagine around half an hour or slightly longer. If you track time with care, you may be able to leave in time to join or influence the last groups bidding for Spirit Market tickets. Among the rich rewards in the game which includes at least 3 ilium, are some rewards related to the Auction itself. They may be useful to you. There are of course also forfeits of significant weight.

Should you be unable to attend, you may pass your ticket to another, along with this letter and your signature together with a statement that this is your wish.

May the game be rich and the gateau taste good

Lanister
Secretary to Callidus

Ashborn Trosk

I have been informed by Artem of Temeschwar that you hold a ticket to The Sovereign Lord of the City of Chains' Game – The Argent Gateau.

You are to be welcomed to an Autumn Chamber at 3 in the afternoon of the Saturday of this Equinox. One of my fellow heralds will greet you in the Hall of Worlds and take you through.

Bring your ticket, or stay close to Artem of Temeschwar and hope they will vouch for you if you have lost it.

Take care not to get muddled with a party heading to the Plenipotentiary – they will be going to a different chamber.

The game will last until all the cake is cut or you all decide to take no more risks – I imagine around half an hour or slightly longer. If you track time with care, you may be able to leave in time to join or influence the last groups bidding for Spirit Market tickets. Among the rich rewards in the game which includes at least 3 ilium, are some rewards related to the Spirit Market itself. They may be useful to you. There are of course also forfeits of significant weight.

Should you be unable to attend, you may pass your ticket to another, along with this letter and your signature together with a statement that this is your wish.

May the game be rich and the gateau taste good

Lanister
Secretary to Callidus

Wayland Dunning

I have been informed by Cormack Dunn that you hold a ticket to The Sovereign Lord of the City of Chains' Game – The Argent Gateau.

You are to be welcomed to an Autumn Chamber at 3 in the afternoon of the Saturday of this Equinox. One of my fellow heralds will greet you in the Hall of Worlds and take you through.

Bring your ticket, or stay close to Cormack Dunn and hope they will vouch for you if you have lost it.

Take care not to get muddled with a party heading to the Plenipotentiary – they will be going to a different chamber.

The game will last until all the cake is cut or you all decide to take no more risks – I imagine around half an hour or slightly longer. If you track time with care, you may be able to leave in time to join or influence the last groups bidding for Spirit Market tickets. Among the rich rewards in the game which includes at least 3 ilium, are some rewards related to the Spirit Market itself. They may be useful to you. There are of course also forfeits of significant weight.

Should you be unable to attend, you may pass your ticket to another, along with this letter and your signature together with a statement that this is your wish.

May the game be rich and the gateau taste good

Lanister
Secretary to Callidus

Tyr Brenna of Hendel Hearth

I have been informed by Cormack Dunn that you hold a ticket to The Sovereign Lord of the City of Chains' Game – The Argent Gateau.

You are to be welcomed to an Autumn Chamber at 3 in the afternoon of the Saturday of this Equinox. One of my fellow heralds will greet you in the Hall of Worlds and take you through.

Bring your ticket, or stay close to Cormack Dunn and hope they will vouch for you if you have lost it.

Take care not to get muddled with a party heading to the Plenipotentiary – they will be going to a different chamber.

The game will last until all the cake is cut or you all decide to take no more risks – I imagine around half an hour or slightly longer. If you track time with care, you may be able to leave in time to join or influence the last groups bidding for Spirit Market tickets. Among the rich rewards in the game which includes at least 3 ilium, are some rewards related to the Spirit Market itself. They may be useful to you. There are of course also forfeits of significant weight.

Should you be unable to attend, you may pass your ticket to another, along with this letter and your signature together with a statement that this is your wish.

May the game be rich and the gateau taste good

Lanister
Secretary to Callidus

Laughlan of Temeschwar

I have been informed by Cormack Dunn that you hold a ticket to The Sovereign Lord of the City of Chains' Game – The Argent Gateau.

You are to be welcomed to an Autumn Chamber at 3 in the afternoon of the Saturday of this Equinox. One of my fellow heralds will greet you in the Hall of Worlds and take you through.

Bring your ticket, or stay close to Cormack Dunn and hope they will vouch for you if you have lost it.

Take care not to get muddled with a party heading to the Plenipotentiary – they will be going to a different chamber.

The game will last until all the cake is cut or you all decide to take no more risks – I imagine around half an hour or slightly longer. If you track time with care, you may be able to leave in time to join or influence the last groups bidding for Spirit Market tickets. Among the rich rewards in the game which includes at least 3 ilium, are some rewards related to the Spirit Market itself. They may be useful to you. There are of course also forfeits of significant weight.

Should you be unable to attend, you may pass your ticket to another, along with this letter and your signature together with a statement that this is your wish.

May the game be rich and the gateau taste good

Lanister
Secretary to Callidus