

Dear Gumbbrand,

How goes the Stormcrow-ing? Had been looking forwards to seeing you at the symposium, but my duties require me to be at a conference in Phaleron.

At least there I will also be discussing religious matters; I've really not been getting very far with getting others of the Realm to accept the evidence that supports the Way. They keep telling me that exceptional claims require exceptional evidence, which I accept, and that my mind has been twisted by the aura left where Asher's body disappeared, which I do not. I think the discussions of the Symposium could help me - could you send a description of what's discussed to Phaleron for study?

My aim may be challenging, but I will not give up. Just assess, adapt, adjust, and carry on the task I have set myself.

Courage be with you,
