

Péter

May you walk always on the path.

You won't know of us because we did not know of you. But we spoke with a Wise One on the roads who had travelled a good deal. He told us of a boy called Peter, that called him by the name of 'Grandfather Stag,' who he thought had Wisdom overflowing for one of his age.

And so now, when we, the Sobolisa need advice badly, for things that have always followed a pattern here are falling out of pattern, we turn to you. If you are, as he thought you would be, in Anvil, and if the Sentinel Gate will allow it, we hope you will come and seek us out in the Sobolisa Cabin, Kamienczka, Karov. We are between the Vale of Olvanshka and the Weeping Stone. It is safe, in our cabin, the old ways have not been broken too badly yet.

We don't leave you alone in this boy, we've written also to the Egregores of Varushka. If Fate allows it, then perhaps they will help you gather others together to come and hear of our problems and who knows maybe share a song or story and trade a thing or two.

Stay safe
