

General Lofyn Blood-cloak,

My name is Osbert Deft-stitch and I write to you on behalf of many of the grimnir who serve in the Bloodcloaks. I do not relish the need to write this letter but Pride demands it. The cloak. The Bloodcloak that you hold and keep with you should be returned to its position as regalia of General of the Bloodcloaks.

Of course this does little now you are of course the general and I believe you are doing a wonderfully given the trials you have been set. But in the future after you have moved on, and perhaps moved towards other imperial titles, the cloak should remain attached to its office. The great Sigrid Redleaf no doubt wore the cloak when she served her two years as general and then passed it on.

I hope to attend Anvil myself at the upcoming summit, though I may be waylaid. Otherwise speak to the magistrates on the matter of establishing a regalia, they should know the correct methods by which it is done.

In Loyalty,

Osbert Deft-stitch
