

To Destan Weaver, on behalf of Victor de Rondell,

I commend you on solving the ritual cypher, and thank Vincenzo di Sarvos for his support in this project.

That first round was complex, but arguably simple once you knew what you were doing. This next challenge may not match it in terms of depth, but I have chosen to include it for the breadth of knowledge and thinking required.

~Flavia of Crystal Hall, deceased

Below are 20 words and phrases, which can be separated into 5 sets of equal size. Each set has a simple, unifying factor.

In addition, within each set there is an odd-one-out.

For example, a set might be: Lashonar, Leviathan, Sadogua, Sung

All 4 are eternal, but only Leviathan is not of the Night Realm.

Identify the 5 odd-ones-out and send them to Vincenzo di Sarvos, Tassato Regario.

There is one intended solution, but alternative interpretations will be considered. You may wish to include a short, succinct explanation for each selection.

To the Coven of Saque Magique

Hopefully you are the right people to contact

I am given to understand that we share a special interest in the Wanderer

Nightly my coven turns our gaze to the red star, and ponder the ways it may be reaching down into our world

Giving itself a physical form - a tulpa

Such a creature walks across the Empire as I write this

Guising as a Marcher woman
