

Senator Mirislav,

I hope this finds you safe, since the Uccelini affair last season it has been difficult for me to get contact to anyone. I am currently laying low in a safehouse in Sarvos and am unable to visit Anvil as I am certain those we fought against are trying to search for me by increasing their influence in the underbelly of the city. I want to thank you for all your help, you are a credit to our fine city. Despite not being able to visit you personally I wanted to give you a heads up about a tip off I received about the Vyig moving some stolen goods into Temeschwar via Varushka. I don't know when and no one in Sarvos seems to know anything so might be worth talking to the Varushkans who may have heard something. This could be a chance to deal some vengeance for the failed incident last season.
