

Kapik,

I thank you for your service last season in arranging the casting of Muffled Oar for myself and Caedwyn. The power of this ritual is strong indeed, and our ships have slipped through Imperial and Grendel blockades alike. Unfortunately, we were unaware of more recent events in The Bay, and some of our cargo (and a few sailors) were lost to attacks from the foul scum who worship the Maelstrom.

As it is, our season's trading was profitable, though not as much as we had hoped. I am keen to do more business this summit, and also to discuss what might be done about the situation in The Bay.

I, and hopefully some of my companions, will be in Highguard at Eleven O'Clock on Sunday morning. We would very much like to speak with you again, or with anyone you trust to meet us in your stead. If we are able to have Muffled Oar cast upon us once more, it would be greatly appreciated.

Also, since our goods seemed popular last time, I am bringing some more doses with me. I also have a single dose of an extremely rare and potent substance, which you may be interested to examine.

Ceitag

Solomon,

I thank you for your service last season in arranging the casting of Muffled Oar for myself and Caedwyn. The power of this ritual is strong indeed, and our ships have slipped through Imperial and Grendel blockades alike. Unfortunately, we were unaware of more recent events in The Bay, and some of our cargo (and a few sailors) were lost to attacks from the foul scum who worship the Maelstrom.

As it is, our season's trading was profitable, though not as much as we had hoped. I am keen to do more business this summit, and also to discuss what might be done about the situation in The Bay.

I, and hopefully some of my companions, will be in Highguard at Eleven O'Clock on Sunday morning. We would very much like to speak with you again, or with anyone you trust to meet us in your stead. If we are able to have Muffled Oar cast upon us once more, it would be greatly appreciated.

Also, since our goods seemed popular last time, I am bringing some more doses with me. I also have a single dose of an extremely rare and potent substance, which you may be interested to examine.

Ceitag

Ames,

I thank you for your service last season in arranging the casting of Muffled Oar for myself and Caedwyn. The power of this ritual is strong indeed, and our ships have slipped through Imperial and Grendel blockades alike. Unfortunately, we were unaware of more recent events in The Bay, and some of our cargo (and a few sailors) were lost to attacks from the foul scum who worship the Maelstrom.

As it is, our season's trading was profitable, though not as much as we had hoped. I am keen to do more business this summit, and also to discuss what might be done about the situation in The Bay.

I, and hopefully some of my companions, will be in Highguard at Eleven O'Clock on Sunday morning. We would very much like to speak with you again, or with anyone you trust to meet us in your stead. If we are able to have Muffled Oar cast upon us once more, it would be greatly appreciated.

Also, since our goods seemed popular last time, I am bringing some more doses with me. I also have a single dose of an extremely rare and potent substance, which you may be interested to examine.

Ceitag