

Sussivari Banner Dream

This season, you have unusually vivid dreams. You mostly find yourself in a strange, ever-changing place full of unique wonders - often jewel-toned creatures, each one of a kind, flying and crawling and burrowing through a landscape of buildings and pathways that themselves sometimes seem to be disturbingly alive. You wake up with the feeling that there are fellow travelers in this place, and you should seek them out - the names Cadence, Tabor and Ezmara are left marked in your mind.
