

Along with the bequest of Tempest Jade to your order's vaults this season, a note is delivered. It reads:

Esteemed Grand Master,

We have learned, through a combination of divination rituals and our foreign contacts, of a grave threat levelled against The Bursar of The Conclave. A friend in Vezak tells me that it is "Vengeance for his role in terrible crimes."

Regrettably, I have not been able to learn much more, though I hope that others with an ear to the ground may have details.

I leave this information with you, and trust to your own judgement. Do with it what you will. I only ask that if this knowledge be revealed, the source of it be withheld.

*Forever Loyal to your order,
Exarch Lillith of Jessica's Stand*