

Citizen,

Please be aware of a recent increase in theft – mostly in the form of burglary – throughout Tassato Regario over the course of the last season. A large number of students from both the University of Tassato and the School of Epistemology, as well as a several residents outside of these institutions, have reported obvious signs of breaking and entering, and missing items. In almost all cases, any mirrors and easily accessible coin within the property have been taken, but otherwise premises have remained largely untouched.

It would be prudent to remain Vigilant, but without cause for panic, especially if out of the city for a significant amount of time.
