

Virtuous Cardinal,

I hope this letter finds you in good health and beneath prosperous winds. I write ahead of my departure from Marracossa and entrust this letter to the captain of a swift ship so it may find you ahead of my arrival in your Empire.

Allow me to introduce myself – I am Amika Acciai – I am one of the priests trained in Nemoria in the True Way and have proudly carried this truth across my homeland these last few years. But, with the burning of our Temple I have decided to make for the Empire. I write to you so I might be expected by you and your assembly (whom I will seek) as I have much to share – and there is much to do.

I travel with other priests and faithful from Maracossa – though they cannot write your tongue they have begged that I express their warmest salutations – and so I have.

As we make for the open sea,

-Amika Acciai
