

So, hello to you, I am Paga Nilschild, I am a thrall of the Mourn, I go round mending fences and trapping foxes and such, Regan Badger says I am like a beater but not, so, a strange thing has happened where a fallen stone is on the farm of a Headwoman called Etri, in the north field where the wind blows, where a woman nobody knows has been seen weeping and wailing all day and night, and none will go near her for those that did go near her at first were tormented with wailing like her and said she looked very frightening, I know ghosts are strange, by the watchful ancestors I have seen enough of them since the green sward, so I sought Regan from Odds End because they are cunning and know better about magic than us thralls, and Regan said they heard about a different ghost near a stone they had just raised from the earth and they were foxed too and did I want to come to Anvil where all the best and most cunning go, Harlan the Whip was coming over from Bregasland too but he is rude and only thinks he knows it all, so, I am sorry for the writing I got my son to copy them for practice
