

Greetings Challengers old and new,

I write on behalf of Revel, who is the Iron Duke's hand in the Empire at this time.

Revel will be in Anvil from 7 for an hour or so on the Friday evening of the Solstice. He intends to hire comfortable space to receive guests at a parador or similar convivial location in the Brass Coast. He will make sure it is known throughout the camp where he can be found.

NEW CHALLENGERS

He invites ALL who cast the ritual at the Autumn Equinox to seek him there. For some he has scrolls of challenge, for others he has questions to assist in planning the challenge. Try to arrive before half past 8 when he may leave, possibly to visit others he knows in Anvil.

OLD CHALLENGERS

If you cast your challenge and already hold your scroll, Revel does not need to see you – but you may choose to drop by if you wish to pass any word of your exploits to the Lord of the Crossroads.

In expectation of your deeds,

Stix, scribe for Castellan and Revel
