

Jabin

We'll be brief. (I'm writing for myself and Adiran) Since our grandmother's death our time is much taken up with Solemn Fields and our responsibilities here - we have had no chance to seek out our next quarry.

We will come to Anvil, to speak with you, and Earl du Soleil and others who have quested with us. We'll bring a box of items that we know have belonged to the Venatores Illustres for some time - we haven't had time to go through them ourselves.

Perhaps if you, Roger or others are ready, we'll hold an Initiation Ceremony in Anvil, since our attempts to do so here failed.

We expect to arrive sometime on the Saturday afternoon, and stay for a few hours. We will look for you in the Dawnish Camp.

Yours

Laurel of the Venatores Illustres
