

To my prosperous business partners in the Carta Notturmo,

Following the last summit, where Eve, from our Chapter, was able to sell you one of our Scorpion Sting daggers for the sum of 30 Crowns, I am most pleased to bring another opportunity to your door, in the interests of ongoing cooperation and mutual benefit.

There is an individual whose soul is dedicated to the spiritual power of Peace who is building a congregation of peace followers out of Uccelini in Sarvos. In addition to being an activity deplored by the Synod, it is also adversely affecting the business interests of my Chapter.

As you are active at Anvil, I would be most grateful if you could ascertain if the Sentinel Gate will be opening in Uccelini. If so, it is in our mutual interests that you arrange a group go forth and ensure that the wretched heretic and blasphemer be dispatched to the Labyrinth where they shall wander lost for eternity.

Ideally, this would be done in such a way as to not trouble the militia and magistrates. Getting a condemnation for blasphemy through the Synod takes hours, and the troublesome sinner may try and use that time to escape. I can assure you that they will not be missed and that no one will raise any awkward questions.

For mutual Prosperity and the keeping of confidences,

Peter Cassian
