

OOC: This arrives by Winged Messenger two weeks before the Summit.

For the Cardinal of Vigilance Irana von Temeschwar.

From the hand of Antonio i Guerra, Flamebearer of the Afar's Inferno Hakima

Vigilance depends often on being alert to threats that others cannot see, other times it relies on answering threats all can see but none take seriously. It is off the latter that I write to you about. It is an open secret that the Hierro intend to take Feroz, as well as who knows how many other lands of the Freeborn and the Empire, but what has been done about it in preparation? What steps have been taken to make sure our land is best prepared for this invasion? None I say. Zero.

A fortified construction in our territory would improve our resistance against the inevitable attacks from the Hierro many times over, saving the Freeborn and by extension the Empire. Wake the Senate up to the danger we face and the steps they can take to face it if only they had the damned Vigilance to notice them!

I intend to write to General Elias i Lemora i Eriqo and hope that working together both of you can do something about this. Perhaps by passing my words along to whoever is decided as our Senator also.

May the Virtues guide you.