

Virtues Anthem - Funeral March

Slow and Melancholy

O come, O come ye seven virtues bright And lead this soul from darkness into light.

Let courage be my armour and my shield With virtue as my guide I shall not yield. Refrain

Refrain

O come, o come ye seven virtues bright And lead this soul from darkness into light.

Additional Verses

Verse 2

O let my spirit hear ambition's call
To strive and rise and never fear to fall
Let flames of holy fervor fill my soul
I shall not cease until I reach my goal
Refrain

Verse 3

I pray that every day my wisdom grow
That I in turn may teach on what I know
To know the truths of all the world I yearn
Till my last breath I shall not cease to learn
Refrain

Verse 4

Oh holy virtue grant that I be proud
To own my sins and speak my virtues loud
No falsehoods vile, false modesty or shame
Shall tarnish the bright glory of my name
Refrain

Verse 5

All ills I will ensure for duty's sake
A valiant heart may cease but never break
To kinsman, to lover, and to friend
My loyalty shall be without an end
Refrain

Verse 6

With vigilance I strive that I perceive
Those liars who dissemble and deceive
May sinners fear my name across the land
May traitors perish weeping at my hand
Refrain

Verse 7

When hard I work with hand and heart and mind
Prosperity shall follow close behind
I shall make use of every throne I earn
That other men shall prosperous be in turn
